

The 402 4th Avenue South-West House

November 5, 2005

Written by Ricardo Galvan

The picture above is the 402 4th Avenue South-West House. It is a beautiful house but it also needs to be repaired to look better than it does right now.

The name of this building is called The 402 4th Avenue South-West House. The year that The 402 4th Avenue South-West House was built was in 1918. It is very old!

The address of 402 4th Avenue SW house is obviously 402 4th Avenue S.

W. If you ever want to see it you can just walk or drive your car by.

The way the house currently looks is that the house is tearing apart and the door looks as if it's going to fall off at any second.

The 402 4th Avenue S.W. House was built for people to live in. It was built for a private residence. It was built for some of the first people that came to Ruskin.

The house has a lot of rusted parts and it looks like its going to fall apart at any time. The house has a door that is about to break. The yard needs to be maintained a little more.

I hope that someone fixes it because it is a part of Ruskin's history. We shouldn't lose it!