The name of this building is The Ruskin Vegetable Corporation Headquarters. The year the Ruskin Vegetable Corporation building was built was in 1941. The address of the Vegetable Corporation's Headquarters is 5909 US Highway 41 North Apollo Beach, Florida 33572.

The structure of the Vegetable Corporation appears to be solid brick or block. The architectural style is Mediterranean, you can tell by the large polygonal shapes and Spanish influence. The Vegetable Corporation was built for packing and shipping vegetables to many different places. The Vegetable Corporation was once under the leadership of Paul Dickman who helped organize a common good society.

The purpose of the vegetable Corporation is to package and ship multitudes of vegetables to a variety of locations. The Vegetable Corporation is mostly surrounded by parking lots and numerous other buildings vital to the business.

The Vegetable Corporation is located in the business district of Apollo Beach and has an Animal Hospital and a Dairy Queen nearby it. The Vegetable Corporation is still being used for packing and shipping locally grown vegetables just like it did when it was first established by the Dickman family.

The Vegetable Corporation is important for packing and shipping vegetables to people. Some outstanding facts of the Vegetable Corporation are that the Vegetable Corporation was once the Manatee Growers Association 1918.

It is important to save and preserve historical buildings such as the Ruskin Vegetable Corporation so people can store or ship packages of vegetables to people who don't have food. It combines a current business with the history of Ruskin and Apollo Beach.
